Champion was visited by a black blizzard on Wednesday evening which excelled any thing heard of in the history of this district. About seven o'clock a cloud was discovered rolling up in the north. As it advanced it gained in size until it was monstrous, presenting a horrible spectacle with its huge billows of dust each trying to gain on the other. Everyone stood petrified wondering just what would happen when it arrived. It looked like dust and it was dust. It struck the town and immediately the town was shrouded in darkness. This lasted sometime. The wind rose in its intensity and the air was black with flying particles of soil. Following the storm rain fell and moisture registered was .38. Last year our total moisture registered at June 1 was 1.93, this year 1.09 but with the last rain our total now reads 2.07. This is nearing our long time average which is 3.75.

TOURISTS BOOST FARMER RETURNS

More consumers must be brought to this province, if the demand is to be increased for farm products. That will mean higher prices to the farmer as a result, in the opinion of officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

It is recognized that Alberta needs more cars. And it is generally known that "every tourist brings his stomach with him."

Did you ever wonder why farmers who live near big cities get more for their poultry and dairy produce than those who live a great distance away.

Naturally. He lives closest to the market. He can sell from door to door his eggs and chickens and he gets retail prices for them, not wholesale.

Motor tourists boost the prices farmers get for their produce because tourists consume the surplus produce.

Alberta farmers have to take small prices for poultry, eggs, vegetables and so forth because surpluses of these things are raised in Alberta. The supply exceeds the demand. Therefore to increase the demand and thus increase the prices paid to the farmer, more eaters must be brought to Alberta.

KING'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVED JUNE 9th

All of which again demonstrates the fact that hard surfacing of highways is a primary need of this province at the present time.

Give the tourist the hard surfaced highway, similar to what he has in the United States, and watch him make the dollars fly in purchases in this country. To undertake anything far removed from this policy is going to give detrimental results.

A meeting will be held to night by the Carmangay Hospital Board in Carmangay to discuss the proposed Municipal hospital scheme. The officers of the two Municipalities, Harmony and Little Bow have been asked to attend. Mr. L. Nichols, of the Royal Insurance Company Calgary was a business visitor in town Tuesday.

Cutworms are causing anxiety among farmers, especially west of town. One farmer reported that he found over 102 worms in a plot of ground 2 feet square, another, that after examining a tract of land which he considered seeding to coarse grain, the idea was abandoned as it was infested with cutworms. Early seeding is showing up the best, the later sowing being somewhat patchy. This is hard to account for as moisture is plentiful, but for some reason germination is slow. Frosts of the past week have caused damage to gardens.

POOLS SEEK WHEAT BOARD WITH SELLING OFFICES OVERSEAS

(Special Correspondent)

Suggestions the commission seek development of overseas markets by visiting Great Britain, Ireland, and European countries; arguments for and against wheat boards and criticism of wheat pools were received by the Targoon royal grain commission during its sittings recently. The commission adjourned until September or October.

On behalf of the Saskatchewan government, Hon. George Spence, minister of agriculture, recommended the commission visit the Old Land countries with a view to developing sale of Canadian wheat. A satisfied customer was the best way to retain markets and testing of requirements at first hand was the best method of approach, Mr. Spence suggested.

Returning to the witness stand after giving some evidence the week previous, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, M. P. for Melville, urged the present wheat board be authorized to receive and handle wheat until the present inquiry report is made. James G. Kest, Targoon, president of the Saskatchewan association of rural municipalities, submitted a resolution for appointment of a wheat board.

Nine farmers supported all forms of compulsory marketing agencies and supported the open market and futures method of trading. Some of them recognized the right of others to voluntary pools and boards but declared they wanted to retain their individual liberty to sell their grain as they wished. Private grain companies it was contended, had given good service.

The nine were George W. Stockton of Carlyle, Harold McNally of Regina, L. R. Zanowski of Scotty, T. A. McCusker of Regina, G. F. Connell of Regina, W. E. Jones of Yellowknife, Joseph Marshall of Yellowknife, W. J. Orchards of Targoon and Ira B. Cushing of Becharof.

Criticism of the wheat pools came from William Robinson, a farmer of the Ituna district, former director of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator company and former delegate to Saskatchewan pool meetings. He declared the pools failed to evolve a marketing system superior to the open market and futures method of trading.

CO-OPERATION

Individual effort to make a town a better place is good; it may accomplish much if properly directed. But if all units of industry, business, religion, education and society are harnessed together and set to work for the good of the community, the total results will be a revelation of the power of co-operation.

The district is climbing up towards the ideal, or sliding back into the rut. According as it possesses or lacks community co-operation.

You as an individual have the power for almost anything you set out to accomplish, what a man will do, that he can do, just so, your town, as a town, can accomplish anything it sets out to accomplish.

Organized efforts in the district will bring about practically any condition we set out to develop. To increase our business and general welfare, it is necessary first to reduce the amount of trade going to outside sources. Legally, anyone can spend his money where he prefers but never the less there is an obligation to spend it in the district, for we all want our towns to continue in existence, we all want it to prosper in such ways as will offer better service and greater opportunities to its citizens.

Are you co-operating in the advancement of your town's prosperity?

Throughout Canada and the United States protests of motorists over the exorbitant taxes imposed upon them are becoming more and more vigorous.

These taxes were imposed for the purpose of building and maintaining roads, although most governments refused to earmark motor revenues definitely for highway purposes. In most of the states and provinces, motorists have actually paid large sums than have been spent on road building and maintenance. In some cases also the governments "bought on credit and sold for cash." That is, they took the motor revenues in current account and spent them for general purposes, but borrowed the greater part of the money spent on roads, thus building up a huge bonded debt.

This combination of debt building and unfortunately in some cases extravagance, was bad enough in normal times. But when the depression arrived, governments promptly stopped spending money on roads, where it was possible for them to stop anything, but continued to collect from motorists in license and gasoline tax at the same or higher rates. Art. 20.

BACK TO THE CROSS

The Place Of Our Reconciliation With God
Sin Brings Separation

This is a divine law which we need to know not only theoretically, but experimentally; and the cross is the only place where we learn the lesson thoroughly.

Listen to the words of Christ as he hangs on Calvary's tree "My God, My God" why hast thou forsaken me, Mark 15:34. This is not the expression of one suffering physical death merely but of one passing through spiritual separation from God.

The sinless Christ had never been separated from His Father, throughout the countless years of eternity they were one; this blessed oneness was seen throughout His early life, and it was that which sustained Him and enabled Him to bear the contradiction of sinners against Himself.

But on the cross Christ lifted the load of our sins upon Himself, and went into the awful darkness of separation in order to reconcile us to God. It is this spiritual separation which Christ, instead of instead of us, which constitutes the meaning of the reconciliation and made the death of Jesus unique.

Christ was forsaken in that dark hour for you and me.

O child of God, if you forget this you lose the spirit of the cross which makes the cross the power of God unto salvation. We need to come back to this aspect of the death of Jesus, until it is not a mere religious duty, but a living reality, it is necessary for us to come to the cross. Your reconciliation when we were in sin, but that after we became Christians we need the atoning death of Jesus to keep us from departing from God.

We often talk of grace in cold theological terms, but as we come into personal relationship to the death of Jesus, grace is revealed in all its fullness and we are faced with a passionate love for Christ.

Saved by the blood of the crucifixion, the Angel's blessing because it is done in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

Saved by the blood, praise God it is done.

Local &amp; General

On Tuesday evening the 1st Letham Troop Boy Scouts were guests of the local scouts at their regular meeting. The latter was held in the fair grounds. A treasure hunt was the feature of the evening, after which other games were played, signals given and a demonstration of the rendering of first aid was made by Velsen scouts. A bonfire was lighted and a sing song enjoyed, all then adjourned to the public school where refreshments were served.

An effort is being made to create greater enthusiasm in the scout movement among the local scouts and the inter-town meetings are proving very beneficial in this respect. The Vulcan troop display keen interest in their work and their association with the local boys is proving very helpful.

On Friday evening following the shower E. Clever discovered fourteen wild canaries on one tree on his lawn. The birds, with their bright yellow and black plumage showed up beautifully against the green leaves of the tree. These birds have been seen in numbers in previous years but this discovery seems to be the record for this district at least. Mr. Clever has one of the beauty spots in town, being fortunate in having water. However this year due to the recent rains all lawns and trees are showing up nicely.

In the third baseball game of the season, on the local diamond Champion defeated the Staveley nine 4-1 before a small crowd of fans on Wednesday evening.

Staveley battery, Beatty and Webster; Champion, Robinson and Hargrave.

Champion boy's softball team met Carmangay boys in Carmangay on Tuesday evening and made up for past failures when they came through with a win 14-2. Heavy hitting and a home run by Leslie Nichol, with the bases full, attributed to their success. Very few errors were made. The girls' softball game between Champion and Carmangay resulted in a tie 11-11. Both games were well played.

Mrs. Chapman, who has been a resident in Champion for over a year, left for Lomond on Tuesday, she expects to leave next week for Ontario where she will spend the summer.
